

Crippled List Makes Coach Harper Gloomy on Eve of Game With Army

INJURIES CAUSE HARPER TO FEAR

N. D. Coach Much Concerned Over Effect on Men in Army Game.

Notre Dame's football squad is in bad condition as the result of injuries and on the eve of the game with the Army. Coach Harper is much concerned over the possible effect on his team's play.

Previous to the squad's departure for the east, the Hoosier coach refused to make any statement for publication concerning the crippled condition of the team. It was only with the understanding that his words should not be made public until after the players left for West Point, that he consented to discuss the matter.

"The men do not realize how serious an effect these injuries may have on us and I am glad of it," he said Wednesday evening. "I do not want anything said before we leave that might tend to impress upon them the possible serious effects on the team's play."

Phelan Among Injured.
In the first place, Grover Malone, Harper's classy little first substitute halfback, was so badly hurt in the Wabash game that he was unable to take the trip east, and he will be out of play for fully two weeks. Quarterback Jim Phelan also suffered injuries in the Wabash contest, but the fact was not known until last Sunday.

Monday's practice put John Miller, regular fullback, who recovered from a serious injury only a short time ago, on the hospital list again, and Fitzgerald, substitute halfback, was added to the list of injured victims Tuesday. To add to this, "Cy" DeGree, right guard, was stricken with tonsillitis during the fore part of the week and was unable to practice Tuesday afternoon.

Phelan was not out in uniform for practice this week, while Miller was not able to work out Tuesday or Wednesday. Trainer Gilman worked diligently over the two men and Coach Harper is hoping that they will be in shape to start tomorrow's game. All of the men made the trip except Malone.

Light Workout Today.
The Hoosier squad will take a light workout on the West Point athletic field this afternoon. Coach Harper and 24 men left for the east Thursday noon.

According to reports from New York City, three car loads of Notre Dame alumni will make the trip down the Hudson to see the clash between the gold and blue and the Army.

Arrangements are being made at Notre Dame to receive the reports of the Notre Dame-West Point game, play by play, Saturday afternoon.

Vidal and McEwan of the Army team are reported to be suffering from slight injuries.

International News Service:
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Welsh-Kilbane bout which was to have been staged at Madison square garden, probably will go to Cleveland.

Matt Hinkle, who staged the labor day bout between Johnny Kilbane and George Chenev, it is understood, has already practically concluded arrangements with Kilbane.

TAN-BLUE TAKES FINAL HARD WORK FOR GARY

Team Runs Plays Smoothly—Coach Burnham Makes Several Shifts in Line.

The high school gridiron team received its last hard workout yesterday at Leeper field, before the Gary battle.

Judging by the manner in which Coach E. H. Burnham's machine performed yesterday, the Gary aggregation will have to put up rather a high class of football in order to come out of Saturday's combat with the long end of the score. Both during the signal drill and the scrimmage the local warriors showed a considerable "pep." The plays were run off in speedy manner and every player appeared to be in the best of shape, with the exception of Makieski, who is still suffering from a wrenched shoulder and will not start the Gary battle. Olsen was used at Makieski's end during the scrimmage and is expected to appear there in Saturday's lineup.

Another shift was made in the line by Coach Burnham. Smith was used at left guard in place of DuComb, who has not been reporting for practice regularly. Smith is a husky chap and together with Donovan and Hndlay should be able to pile up a few of the old time mass plays which are Gary's most valuable asset.

Owing to the fact that Teachers' institute meets at the high school today, Coach Burnham has called this afternoon's practice for 1:30 o'clock. It will consist of a long signal drill and a few wind sprints.

LANDIS MAY GET COMMISSION JOB

Federal Judge is Being Spoken of as Gary Herrmann's Successor.

International News Service:
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, judge of the United States court here, is being mentioned as a possible successor to Garry Herrmann as chairman of the national baseball commission.

In well informed quarters it is intimated that the jurist would be acceptable to a number of the magnates of the American and National leagues as a result of an attitude toward baseball which he took in the bearing brought against the National league by the Federal. The judge, a 33rd degree fan, said in the course of the hearing:

"You all understand that a blow to the game of baseball will be regarded by this court as a blow to one of our national institutions."

Whether Judge Landis has been approached by any of those who are seeking to reorganize the commission is not known and whether he would be willing to doff the ermine to accept the chairmanship is even yet more uncertain.

International News Service:
RACINE, Wis., Nov. 3.—The bout between Joe Welling and Ever Hammer, rival Chicago lightweights, will be run off here Nov. 11 instead of Nov. 14. The promoters feared that two cards so close together in the same territory would not attract good houses to either.

ARMY GAME BIG EVENT SATURDAY

Quite a Battle is Expected at West Point—Yale to Meet Colgate.

International News Service:
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The footballers quit hard work today to rest up for their gruelling battles of the morrow. Only signal practice drills of punting exercises were indulged in.

The biggest attraction on tomorrow's bill is the intersectional clash between Army and Notre Dame. Neither eleven has suffered defeat this season, and it ought to be quite a battle up there in West Point. The game may settle the moot question: "Is Colgate of Notre Dame a greater half-back than Oliphant of the Army?" Both have flashed brilliant football in points scored, but Colgate is just a notch behind.

Next in importance is the Yale-Colgate clash in New Haven. Once again we find two undefeated eleven ready to battle each other. Yale is favored to win because of its superior weight and also because two of the Colgate back field men are ailing.

But that little team, having twice walloped Yale, may have acquired a habit that can't be broken this year.

Harvard ought to have a cinch with Virginia.

Princeton goes against the weak Bucknell team and with any sort of playing should romp through to a shutout victory.

Pittsburgh meets Allegheny and ought to roll up 50 points—if it tries. But Pitt may use subterfuge, not caring to risk its regular in an unimportant game.

That Dartmouth-Syracuse affair should be a thriller. Both teams have suffered a double defeat, which robs the game of tremendous interest. It would have if both slater were clean. But just the same the battle ought to rage fiercely in each period, with Dartmouth entering the fray with a bit of an "edge" due to its great backfield.

Zbysko will tip the scales at 226 pounds while Daro will only weigh in at 206. This will give the Pole a slight advantage, but Daro promises to overcome it by his aggressiveness on the mat. Zbysko is matched with Charles Cutler, before an athletic club in Chicago, Saturday night and will come to South Bend Tuesday.
